

RICHARD MURRAY

Christ Church Cathedral School, Oxford

What do you enjoy most about the role?

Seeing young people develop a love of learning and an enthusiasm about the world. There is no more rewarding job and every morning I give thanks for my good fortune.

What are you most proud of about your school?

The fact that our pupils can be themselves and are therefore happy and successful. Schools should be, at heart, environments of inspiration. Every pupil feels passionate about the subjects they have learned. It is for this reason that they have the motivation to succeed.

What attracted you to it?

Its small size and the intellectual openness of its culture. We can ensure that all our pupils are cared for both pastorally and intellectually.

Register now for our Open Morning on Saturday 12th October, 9.30 am - 12 noon.
